Collection of names and contact information under the Mandatory Order COVID-19

Preamble:

- These guidelines and recommendations are based on the Mandatory Order, should the Mandatory Order change, this document will be updated.
- This document has been designed to support businesses, and all others it may apply to, to better understand their responsibilities.
- The guidelines recommend best practices to be implemented to the best of your ability.

Guidance:

You must follow these guidelines and comply with this obligation if you are:

- A government entity
- A charity
- A not-for profit entity
- A for-profit entity

and:

- Anyone who admits patrons to a venue at which seating is offered for purposes of eating, drinking, socialization, celebration, ceremony or entertainment or;
- Anyone who owns or manages a gym, fitness centre; yoga studio or dance studio;

  Note: These guidelines do not apply if a patron enters to pick up food or drink and immediately leaves the venue (take-out) or passes in the drive-thru.

Your responsibilities at a glance:

- Explain to your patrons/visitors why you are collecting their contact information.
- Only collect the minimum information required. Do not collect any other personally identifiable information.
- Record and validate the information of at least one member of the party (this includes asking one patron in the party for identification).
- Maintain information for the rest of the party.
- Securely retain all records and safely dispose of them once they are no longer necessary.
- In the orange and red phases, ensure people being seated together are from the same household bubble. This can be addressed by asking each party to verbally affirm that all members of the party are from the same household bubble.
- In the red and lockdown phases, all workplaces must follow these guidelines and also record the name and contact information of every employee or contractor who enters the workplace, as well as an indication that they were actively screened upon entry.

Detailed guidance and tools:

Explain:

- Post a visible Notice (Appendix A), informing the public of your obligation to record their names and contact information.
  - Post hard copies (paper document) at the entrance of the venue and electronic copies on your website or app (if applicable).
  - Ensure it is visible and easily accessible.
  - Ask individuals if they have read and understood the notice prior to collecting their contact information.

Limit:

Restrict the information collected to:

- first and last name and phone number or email address of one (1) person per group/party who will be seated together.
- the person must know how to contact the rest of the individuals in their group/party.
- the date and time of each visit.
- Only collect the email address if no phone number is available.
- Do not collect any other personal information.
- Do not collect personal information for contact tracing purposes if it is not required by the Mandatory Order.
- Limit the number of personnel who collect, record and save the personal information by designating and training specific employees responsible for these tasks.

In the red and lockdown phases only: for every employee or contractor that enters a workplace, you must record an indication that the employee or contractor was actively screened to ensure they do not have symptoms of COVID-19, have not traveled outside New Brunswick in the previous 14 days and are otherwise not required to self-isolate.

Collect:

Use the Collection Form (see Appendix B) to record the information.

- Record only the information of one (1) person per group/party who will be seated together. Ensure that person knows how to contact others in their party, if required.
- Determine one central point of contact and personnel responsible for collecting the information and fill out the document every day either on paper or electronically.
  - if on paper, ensure that a sufficient number of sheets are printed and available to personnel every day.
  - If stored electronically, ensure all safeguards are in place to prevent unauthorized access.
- Personnel collecting the information should fill out the document themselves and never ask patrons to fill it out.
- Personnel must ensure the document is never left unattended.
- Personnel collecting the information should ensure they spell names, phone numbers or email addresses correctly by double checking with patrons once document is filled out.
- At the end of each day, or when a gathering is over, personnel responsible for storage and/or destruction of records must collect all the documents used that day, complete the log form (see Appendix C) and store both the collection and log documents in a secure manner.
- When filling out the log form, the personnel should follow instructions in italics in the document and ensure they record both the date the collection was done and the expiry date (collection date +28 days).

Secure:

- Ensure the contact information is saved in a secure location (if it is a physical document) or is password-protected with limited individuals who know the password (if digital).
- Physical document must never be left unattended, must be protected from the public's view at all times and must be stored in a secure place before closing the business, or end of the event.
- Manager on duty or event organizer is responsible for the secure storage and destruction of documents.

Retention and destruction:

- Securely keep the collection form for 28 days after the day of collection.
- Ensure it is securely destroyed on the 29th day after its collection.
- Secure destruction means shredding the documents in a way the information they contain cannot be retrieved by any means. If digital, totally remove from all electronic devices. Few employees at the management level should be responsible for the secure destruction of these records.
- The log form must be used to track record destruction (see Appendix C).
- It will be critical to ensure the correct dates are recorded on both the collection and log documents as they will serve to count the 28 days after which the collection document should be securely destroyed.
- Immediately upon destruction of the documents, the personnel who has completed it should record it on the appropriate column of the log form.
- Only the collection form should be destroyed after 28 days. The log form should be kept for 12 months.
- Each day, personnel responsible for destruction should refer to the log form, verify expiry date and prepare collection forms to be destroyed that day.

Restricted use and disclosure:

- The collection document record can only be used for contact tracing by Public Health officials in case of an outbreak.
- This record cannot be used by the collector for any purpose including being used for promotion, advertisement or be sold.
- Only upon request from an N.B. Medical Officer of Health or a Public Health Inspector should the personnel responsible for the disclosure that day provide the collection document to Public Health.
- Public Health will send a request via email (see Appendix D) or make a call and provide details on the day or days for which they are requesting the collection document.
- Personnel responsible for disclosure must:
  - Restrict the collection documents they provide to Public Health to all the days included in Public Health's request:
  - Ensure they provide the correct dates;
  - Not provide additional days on their own initiative, and
  - Strictly follow instructions provided in the request for a secure transmission of the document.

Appendix A: Notice on Collection of Contact Information Under NB Mandatory Order COVID-19

NOTICE ON COLLECTION OF CONTACT INFORMATION UNDER NB MANDATORY ORDER COVID-19

The mandatory order (COVID-19) issued by the Minister of Justice and Public Safety under the Emergency Measures Act requires that we ask for:

In the orange and red phases, verbal confirmation from everyone in the party being seated together that they are from the same household bubble.

Ask for identification from at least one member of your party.

Have that patron agree to maintain information for the rest of the party.

The first and last name and a phone number or an email address for the person providing identification, as well as the time and date of your visit, so that Public Health can easily and quickly get in touch with you in case of an outbreak.

We will keep your information in a secure place at all times and will securely destroy it after 28 days.

We will not use or sell your information and will only share it with Public Health if they ask us to, in which case we will take precautionary measures when transferring it to them.

By providing your contact information, you understand it will be collected, used and disclosed as described above.

If you have questions or concerns regarding the collection, use, disclosure of your personal information, suspect or are aware of a privacy breach of your personal information, please contact: Cpobpyp@gnb.ca

If you do not want to provide your contact information you will be refused access to this facility/event.
