

Educate Your Eye 2
Training Challenges
With
Jen Marsden Hamilton
High Performance Coach

After last year's immensely successful "Educate Your Eye" auditor clinic, we knew we had to offer similar sessions again. Designed for the observing audience, the "Educate Your Eye" sessions help us develop our perception of good riding and horse response, find the root causes for training issues, and select the best exercises to help the horse understand.

In this year's "Educate Your Eye 2", renowned equestrian trainer, international coach, and author Jen Hamilton returns to Geary Hill Stables to work with demonstration jumper riders and horses to discuss training challenges across the levels.

- First competitions over cross rails
- Competing at 2'3" and 2'9"
- Introducing youngsters to 3'3"

Cause and cure discussion

- the importance of position
- connection to achieve forward and straight - longitudinal work
- progression to lateral work
- stride control - jumps are just another stride!
- setting exercises for self evaluation

While the focus will be on preparing for competition, the fun won't be lost in the process!
Come out early in the spring, reconnect with your riding friends, and get psyched for the show!
Everyone is welcome! Rider! Parents! Coaches!
