

Agricultural Alliance of New Brunswick Supports Carleton AgriSolutions in Delivery of Veterinary Services

Fredericton, NB — September 2, 2026 — The Agricultural Alliance of New Brunswick (AANB) is pleased to confirm its support for Carleton AgriSolutions as the new provider of field veterinary services in New Brunswick, following this morning's announcement.

Throughout the transition process, the Alliance has worked closely with the province's veterinarians to ensure their concerns were heard and their livelihoods protected. AANB believes Carleton AgriSolutions is well positioned to maintain the quality and reliability of these services for farmers, producers, and animal owners across the province.

"We have a service provider that believes in New Brunswick agriculture. We have veterinarians who remain deeply committed to their work. And we have an agricultural industry that has demonstrated that when something this important is at risk, we will come together and find a way forward." said Danielle Connell, President of the Agricultural Alliance of New Brunswick.

"The horse community will be breathing a sigh of relief with this announcement. Veterinary care for all livestock, 24/7 and province-wide, has always been our priority. It's a great day for large animal vets, and we thank Carleton AgriSolutions for stepping up to offer leadership for continued vet service in New Brunswick," said Deanna Phelan, President of the New Brunswick Equestrian Association.

The Alliance remains committed to working with producers, veterinarians, and Carleton AgriSolutions to ensure a smooth transition and continued access to essential vet services across New Brunswick.
